

Reading and Punctuation, Vocabulary and Grammar In Key Stage One

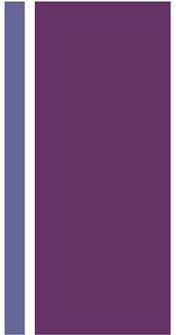

A Parents guide

The National Curriculum

How you can help.

+ The National Curriculum

The national curriculum for English aims to ensure that all pupils:

- read easily, fluently and with good understanding
- develop the habit of reading widely and often, for both pleasure and information
- acquire a wide vocabulary, an understanding of grammar and knowledge of linguistic conventions for reading, writing and spoken language
- appreciate our rich and varied literary heritage

Why read 4 times weekly with your child?

Reading widely and often increases pupils' vocabulary because they encounter words they would rarely hear or use in everyday speech.

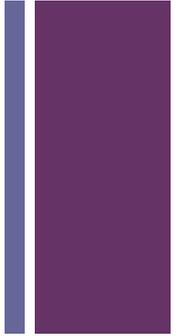

It helps children to foster a love of reading.

It helps children to learn to read earlier.

Listen to your child read and read to your child, model good reading in your household.

+ Reading

The programmes of study for reading at key stages 1 and 2 consist of two dimensions:

- word reading
- comprehension (both listening and reading).

It is essential that teaching focuses on developing pupils' competence in both skills; different kinds of teaching are needed for each.

+ Word Reading

Skilled word reading involves both the speedy working out of the pronunciation of unfamiliar printed words (decoding) and the speedy recognition of familiar printed words.

Underpinning both is the understanding that the letters on the page represent the sounds in spoken words.

Time should sometimes be given for reading books more than once to build on fluency.

Phonics and Word Recognition

Your child will bring home weekly phonics homework to complete.

Your child may have common exception word flashcard to practice. These are sometimes words that your child can not sound out, they need to be recognised as a whole word. For phonetically regular words, encourage your child to sound out unfamiliar word and blend the sounds together.

Comprehension through reading and listening to adults read Year 1

You can help to develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by:

- listening to and discussing a wide range of poems, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently
- being encouraged to link what they read or hear read to their own experiences
- becoming very familiar with key stories, fairy stories and traditional tales,
- retelling stories
- recognising and joining in with predictable phrases in stories
- learning to appreciate rhymes and poems, and to recite some by heart
- discussing word meanings, linking new meanings to those already known

Comprehension through reading and listening to adults read Year 1

Your child should understand both the books they can already read accurately and fluently and those they listen to by:

- drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by you
- checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading
- discussing the significance of the title and events
- making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done
- predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far

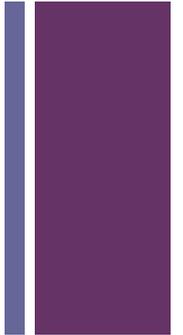

Comprehension through reading and listening to adults read Year 2

- You can continue to help your child to develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by:
 - listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently
 - discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related
 - becoming increasingly familiar with and retelling a wider range of stories, fairy stories and traditional tales
 - being introduced to non-fiction books that are structured in different ways
 - recognising simple recurring literary language in stories and poetry
 - discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary
 - discussing their favourite words and phrases
 - continuing to build up a repertoire of poems learnt by heart, appreciating these
 - and reciting some, with appropriate intonation to make the meaning clear
